

A.D. Latornell Conservation Symposium

Conservation Ontario and the Centre for Land and Water Stewardship, University of Guelph are pleased to co-host the 18th annual A.D. Latornell Conservation Symposium.

The Symposium has grown in popularity and become one of Ontario's largest annual conferences focusing on environmental and conservation issues. The A.D. Latornell Conservation Symposium provides a venue for policy-makers, practitioners, decision-makers, and other committed individuals and agencies to meet, network, share ideas and promote partnerships for the betterment of Ontario's environment.

This popular event is named after Arthur Douglas Latornell, an important conservationist who was dedicated to the grassroots conservation movement in Southern Ontario. He helped to shape the future of conservation in Ontario by being a valued mentor to many young people who have devoted the majority of their lives to the conservation field. Arthur Latornell was also an enthusiastic promoter of Conservation Authorities.

A.D. Latornell Logo

The A.D. Latornell logo was designed to represent the significant aspects of Arthur Latornell's life and legacy. The tree symbol represents the conservation of natural resources. The trunk contains the profiles of two people. Both have their heads lowered as if exploring something on the ground. This represents the concept of mentoring – passing on knowledge to others – a key strength of Arthur Latornell.
